

Ready! What's your question?

This is a test. Reaction time is a factor, so please pay attention. Now, answer as quickly as you can.

It's your birthday. Someone gives you a calfskin wallet.

I wouldn't need a wallet, but that's very thoughtful. What would you do with it?

You've got a little boy. He shows you his butterfly collection plus the killing jar.

That's an interesting hobby. How does it make you feel to see his collection and the way he's preparing it?

You're watching television. Suddenly you realize there's a wasp crawling on your arm.

I'd stay calm and gently try to encourage it to move onto something else. What would you do in that situation?
